The International School of Luxembourg's Upper School Awards ceremony took place last week, with outstanding ISL students honored for their academic efforts. The occasion also saw the Henry J. Leir Grade 11 Prize for the best essay on any subject written by a member of the 11th grade awarded for the fourth time. The €500 went this year to Ethan Schrieberg for his essay entitled, "The Use of the Color Green in The Great Gatsby." He

The Henry J. Leir Luxembourg Program-Clark University, located in Worcester, Massachusetts USA, sponsors this award in honor of Henry J. Leir (1900-1998), who had a special fondness for the mastery of language and for furthering young people. Indeed, throughout his life, Mr. Leir displayed a love of languages, literature, and the arts in part for their ability to edify.
